COLLECTIONS

• Research Resources

The Library maintains an extensive collection related to the University research activities. Subscriptions to the following journals have recently been renewed, and are available for access via the Library homepage.

*Accounting Research Journal

It covers research and practice of accounting, finance, auditing, commercial law and cognate disciplines. The journal includes work reporting the results of research conducted using data from Australia, New Zealand and other Asian-Pacific countries.

* The American Journal on Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (AJIDD)

The AJIDD reports current and critical research in biological, behavioral, and educational sciences. It is a singular, multidisciplinary resource in the causes, treatment, and prevention of intellectual disability. It is an essential reference and resource tool for institutions such as doctoral and master's-level universities, research organizations, teaching hospitals, sciences and human services libraries interested in understanding causes, prevention and treatment for intellectual disabilities.

* Corpora : Corpus-based Language Learning, Language Processing and Linguistics

Corpora is a journal of corpus linguistics focusing on varied uses of corpora both in linguistics and beyond. It provides articles presenting research findings based on the exploitation of corpora as well as accounts of corpus building, corpus tool construction and corpus annotation schemes.

* Ethnic and Racial Studies

Race, ethnicity and nationalism are very important social and political issues in the present global environment. Ethnic and Racial Studies is the leading journal for the analysis of these issues throughout the world. It provides an interdisciplinary academic forum for the presentation of research and theoretical analysis, drawing on sociology, social policy, anthropology, political science, economics, geography, international relations, history, social psychology, and cultural studies.
